

Couples Therapist Job Posting

Apraxis Center is a Cobb County based therapy center located in Marietta that provides in-person / telehealth forms of psychotherapy / counseling, as well as experiential modalities of therapy. The core of our values, philosophy and ethos centers on relationships with the goal of improving our relationships with others, our communities, ourselves and nature.

We are seeking an associate level therapist or fully licensed therapist that specializes in couples therapy, or desires to work with couples. Part time position - with option to grow into full time if needed. Please submit your resume if you have the following qualifications and interests.

- Provides couples therapy - or is willing to receive training and education to work with couples
- Utilizes therapy from a relational perspective - which includes formal training or research into any or all of the following: systems theories (including family systems), emotionally focused therapy (EFT), attachment theory, psychodynamic and/or intersubjective psychoanalysis, internal family systems (IFS) or Imago
- In addition to couples counseling, provide individual therapy too.
- Dedicated to helping develop a milieu focused on training and education for fellow practitioners
- Committed to providing group therapy
- Masters or Doctorate from a counseling/psychology/social work program
- Actively working towards licensure or hold active licensure

Benefits:

- Receive approved supervision (AAMFT approved supervisor or LCSW supervisor)
- Join a work environment that cares deeply about personal / professional growth
- Receive training, CEUs, and group consultation
- Opportunities (if interested) to get outside comfort zone through both providing and experiencing the benefits of experiential learning and therapy
- Highly competitive pay
- Flexibility to run your own schedule
- All overhead costs provided
- Marketing and advertising provided

Please send cover letter and resume/CV and all other inquiries to kurt@apaxiscenter.com
